Summer 2017

Dear Friends,

As you may already know, Camp Nikos is fast approaching. You may have read about in our newsletter or website over the past few weeks. This year's camp theme is “EXPLORE GOD,” campers will be taught to seek God and know Him personally. Each day a theme that clearly explains the character of God and His plan to bring us to Him will be experi-enced by the children at camp.

I had a conversation with an individual in the community that encouraged me. He said most conservatives love the fetus but hate the child, but Mission: Possible! Austin is truly pro-life because you all love the fetus (unborn) and the child. Wow! This is why Camp Nikos is so very close to our hearts. Nikos camps allows us to teach children about God's love in a fun and exciting forum, through which God can reach into the lives of Austin's high-risk youth and touch their hearts in a super-natural way thus impacting generations to come.

The reason I am writing is because the challenge to raise the funds needed to hold our five camps is always matter of prayer for our team. The total amount that we have set to raise for our five camps throughout the year, is approximately $100,000. As you may know, the inner-city children who attend Camp Nikos pay nothing. Their week at camp is entirely subsidized by generous Mission: Possible! Austin supporters like you.

To-date we've received around $60,000 of the amount needed to fully fund our camping ministry. Our five annual Nikos Camps and retreats will be packed to capacity and we don't want to turn children away because of finances. For the past 23 years God has faithfully provided for this inner-city camping ministry, and we ask that you would join us in praying that He will continue to do so this year. We will step out in faith believing that our God shall supply all our needs according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus. Philippians 4:19

If you feel led to give when you hear about the children attending Camp Nikos, please know that your generous gift will be greatly appreciated. The cost to attend one of these life changing camps is $375.00. In addition, we are excited to an-ounce that your gift will be doubled through a matching gift provided by Capitol Chevrolet for donations up to $5,000.00. You can donate on-line at: www.mpaustin.org or just drop a check in the mail and note Camp Nikos. Also, if you know someone who you think might be interested in supporting this effort, please pass this information to them.

We at Mission: Possible! Austin appreciate your prayers and support! We look forward to another summer of God working greatly in the lives of children, youth, and volunteers through this vital camping ministry.
